Minimum Wage Bill Passed In Senate, 22-9

LANSING (AP)—The Senate today passed Gov. George W. Romney's $1 hourly minimum wage bill 22-9 and sent it to the House for concurrence in an amendment.

A coalition of Democrats and Romney's floor leaders killed three crippling amendments which earlier had been tacked on by Senate Republicans. The bill goes to the House—already has approved the bill in the form Romney submitted it—in the same form as it was when released by the Senate Labor Committee.

The committee, headed by Sen. Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids, had changed the House endorsed measure to make it illegal for employers to habitually fire their workers to avoid paying the minimum.

A coalition of Democrats and Romney's floor leaders appeared better organized in today's morning session than in the Thursday meeting at which the Republican-sponsored amendments were tacked on temporarily.

The defeated changes in the House-approved $1 hourly minimum wage bill would have:

—Exempt all employers of farm labor from observing the statutory minimum.

—Cut the age bracket eligible for the minimum wage from 18-65 to 22-62.

—Knock out the bill's provisions to graduate the minimum to $1.15 in 1966 and $1.25 in 1967.

The three Republican-sponsored amendments were among 10 that were thrown at the bill during initial debate Thursday. Attempts to exempt theaters, fishing firms, small businesses and resort hotels from the bill were defeated.

Robert McIntosh, Romney's legislative aide, said the governor's office "is going to the mat on this one."

He stood in the rear of the Senate chamber "so they'll know I'm watching them when the hands go up on these amendments."

The minimum wage bill ranks high on Romney's legislative program for this year and is viewed as an essential issue in the 1964 election campaign if he runs for re-election as expected.

Dixie Oratory Slows Action On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's renewed appeal for prompt passage of the administration-backed civil rights bill ran into another barrage of Southern oratory today in the Senate.

As debate entered its 33rd day, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., one of the Dixie speaker captains, was ready to fire away again at the House-passed measure.

And Sens. John Sparkman, D-Ala., and B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., were alerted to take over with another 12-hour session indicated.

"I hope all Americans will understand that we are going to pass the civil rights bill because it is morally right," the President told his news conference Thursday.

He joined in cautioning civil rights demonstrators to avoid disorders and violence and expressed a hope that Congress would complete action promptly on the bill aimed at bringing these protests into the courts.

Asked about the President's appeal, Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., another of the Southern captains said:

"I shall continue to do everything in my power to defeat the civil rights bill."

Supporters of the measure indicated agreement with the President but shunned comment for the most part.

One of the bill's managers, who asked not to be identified, said that "it may be 30 days before we get any real voting."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen introduced 10 amendments to the anti-job discrimination section of the bill Thursday with a claim that they would improve the measure.

"I do not believe that they will impair, weaken or emasculate the bill," he told the Senate. "They are not so intended."

Rail Bargaining Pace Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—With President Johnson still hopeful of voluntary settlement in the national railroad crisis, negotiators and federal mediators continued talks at a stepped-up pace today.

"I am not an overly optimistic man, but I do believe that under our collective bargaining system a result can be reached," Johnson told a news conference Thursday.

"I hope and pray it will be by the end of the week," he said.

The comment followed Johnson's statement Wednesday that "we should know definitely, no later than next Monday, whether the parties to this dispute will settle it by the process of bargaining and by responsible reason."

Johnson didn't say what he would do if the talks fail to remove the threat of a nationwide strike at 12:01 a.m. April 25.

The White House said day and night talks, with mediators trying to get both sides to give ground, would continue until Monday.

George Reedy, White House press secretary, indicated there is little possibility of a final determination will be announced this weekend.

Johnson's implied Monday deadline would leave him another five days to consider other measures if the talks fail, but he continued to shy away from any hint that he would ask for emergency legislation in that event.

The dispute between the carriers and the brotherhoods goes back five years. Johnson barely averted a strike last Thursday night when he won agreement to a 15-day truce to permit a last-ditch round of negotiations.

Districting Up For First Test

LANSING (AP)—House Republicans, still looking for Democratic support, were ready today to bring Gov. George W. Romney's congressional redistricting plan to its first test in the House.

They decided Thursday to move the proposal to the head of the calendar.

House GOP Floor Leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, said strategy was to finish preliminary debate on the proposal today and bring it to a final vote in the House on Monday.

The plan would have been up for preliminary debate Thursday had not the House bogged down on debate on other bills.

While Republicans girded for a push on Romney's plan, Democrats were preparing to offer an alternative in the hope of reaching a compromise that might salvage them at least one more seat in Congress.

House Minority Leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, was to offer as a substitute to the Romney scheme a plan that conceivably could set up a 10-9 edge for Democrats.

Republicans at present hold an 11-8 edge and Romney's proposal—on the basis of past voting records—would preserve that, or at least a 10-9 edge for Republicans.

Rusk Promises U.S. Help For Viet Nam Peace

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam "will have peace when Hanoi and Peking have been taught to leave their neighbors alone," U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a welcoming crowd of 600 at Saigon airport today.

"You and those of us who are at your side must defeat their effort to impose their own misery upon you," Rusk said. "That this will be done I have not the slightest doubt, and I am here to make clear once again that we shall help you do it."

Cold Air Ends Spring Warmup

By The Associated Press
Cold air from Canada, fanned by brisk northerly winds, spread into sections of the northern Plains today, ending a brief spell of unseasonable warm weather in some areas.

Light snow fell in parts of Montana and northern Wyoming and light rain splashed areas in North Dakota. Rain also damped areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Washington. Mostly dry weather was reported in other parts of the nation.

The coldest weather, with temperatures in the teens, was reported in southwest Montana. Readings dropped to the 30s in parts of the Dakotas after hitting record high marks for April 16 in some cities Thursday. The mercury climbed to 92 in Sioux Falls and Huron, S.D., and 81 in Fargo, N.D.

Many other cities in the Midwest Thursday reported record high temperatures for April 16, including 94 in Grand Island, Neb., and 87 in La Crosse, Wis., and Waterloo, Iowa. Chicago's 84 tied the record high for the date.

here earlier Thursday, said Sgt. Irving Hollis of the Washtenaw County sheriff's office. Formerly, Mrs. Wang had worked as a laboratory technician at the hospital.

The engineer of the Detroit-to-Chicago train, Carl E. Cross, 58, of Jackson, said it was traveling about 45 miles an hour and he had no chance to stop in time.

After the train was halted, it was rammed in the rear by a locomotive hauling six freight cars. The freight had been parked on a spur track when the Twilight Limited went by.

The eighth car of the Limited was partly derailed, Hollis said. One of the injured, Mark Moore, 19, of East Tawas, was en route to Great Lakes Naval

President Says Violence Hurts Civil Rights Cause

Troopers Get New Suits If They Drop Fat

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Georgia State Patrolmen, ordered to lose more than three-and-a-half tons in overweight, have been promised a reward that most women relish when they, too, go on a diet: New outfits.

In the troopers' case, they're getting new uniforms—but not until September, their deadline date for trimming down.

As an extra enticement, the troopers will get Sam Browne belts, which admittedly will look smarter on pouchless officers.

The order went out last June to the 418 members of the State Patrol: Lose more than three-and-a-half tons by September of 1964. Three-hundred-and-one were overweight.

The results: More than two tons lost after 11 months of dieting.

The target: Another ton-and-a-half off by September.

And the punishment if they don't lose? Disciplinary action. "I issued the order," said Col. Lowell Conner, boss of the troopers, "and I expect it to be followed like any other order."

"I told them I didn't care how they lost, what diet they followed, just so they came within five pounds of what they ought to weigh."

One hefty officer quit just after the diet order was issued. He gave no excuse—but fellow officers said he would have had to lose between 50 and 60 pounds. "There's not a scale large enough to weigh me," another round officer complained. He was told, "We'll take you to the stockyards; the scales there are larger."

All officers are required to weigh in once a month and the results are tabbed at headquarters.

The heaviest officer weighed 280 pounds; he is down to 220 now.

Eighteen men were underweight—they've been ordered to gain.

Conner's weight loss: "I didn't need to lose," he said. "I was the right weight."

Rocket Blow-Up Injuries Fatal To Mechanic, 29

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Sidney Dagle, 29, spacecraft mechanic, died today of burns received when a rocket motor ignited accidentally on Tuesday.

Dagle was one of 11 men burned when the rocket fired in a checkout building, spraying blazing fuel throughout the structure.

Dagle died in a hospital in nearby Cocoa Beach. Still in critical condition was L. D. Gabel, 51. Both are from Longmont, Colo.

John Fassett, one of four injured flown to Brooke Army Hospital, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., for specialized treatment, also remained critical. The other three at Brooke were termed serious.

Two less seriously hurt men remained hospitalized in Cocoa. Three others with minor burns were treated and released.

Nation Honors Top Scholars

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is launching a program of recognizing outstanding high school graduates as "presidential scholars" in the hope that other youths will follow their example.

Up to 121 of the bright young people—a boy and girl from each of the 50 states, two from Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia and the U.S. territories and up to 15 at large—will be brought to Washington as the guests of the government next month and receive from President Johnson a medallion symbolizing the honor.

Annual cost of the program was estimated at $25,000, to be divided by the Office of Education and the National Science Foundation. This will cover travel expenses, paper work and the like. The scholars will receive no cash award.

"These awards," said Johnson in announcing the program at his news conference Thursday, "are to recognize the most precious resource of the United States—the brain power of its young people."

The selections will be made by a presidential commission of seven: Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University; Leonard Bernstein, composer and conductor; Katherine Anne Porter, author; Dr. Albert W. Dent, president of Dillard University, New Orleans; the Rev. Michael P. Walsh, president of Boston College; Dr. William Hagerty, president of Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia; and Melvin W. Barnes, superintendent of schools, Portland, Ore.

Doolittle Band Holds Reunion

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—More than 40 Doolittle raiders, now gathered in Fort Worth, will be their 18th annual reunion, to be greeted Saturday by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, leader of the World War II bombing of Japan.

Of the original 80 raiders, 56 are still living. A record 44 planned to attend the reunion.

New Medal Given To Khrushchev On His Birthday

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev celebrated his 70th birthday today with a new medal on his coat, Communist colleagues from at home and abroad gathered around and congratulations pouring in.

The former shepherd boy from the Ukraine who governs the world's largest land mass smiled faintly at the Soviet people from the front pages of all newspapers, a picture of glowing health.

But Premier Khrushchev scheduled no personal appearances for the public.

At 9 a.m. Soviet government leaders began calling on him and his wife Nina to offer congratulations. Later, visiting leaders of Soviet bloc nations were to convey their greetings personally.

However, it was a quiet birthday for the man who attacked the personal adulation given Stalin—his 70th birthday party went on for months of praise—and rebuffed the dictator in an obscure grave.

Khrushchev became a "Hero of The Soviet Union" by order of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet. In receiving the highest award of his nation, Khrushchev joined a company that includes cosmonauts and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The decree cited Khrushchev's work "in building a Communist society, in strengthening the economic and defensive might of the Soviet Union, in developing fraternal friendship of the people of the USSR, in carrying out Leninist peaceful foreign policy and in recog-

Dr. MacMullan Succeeds Eddy

LANSING (AP)—In a surprise move today, the Conservation Commission named Dr. Ralph MacMullan as new director, succeeding Gerald Eddy, who stepped down under fire to head the department's Geology Division.

MacMullan, a native of Detroit, joined the department in 1946 and early this year was named deputy director in charge of staff.

The appointment was made over the objections of some commission members, who had urged a wait for reports on possible candidates turned up in a national search. They also were wary about legislative reaction to pay raise proposal.

Harry Whitely of Rogers City was elected chairman of the commission to succeed Cain in a continuation of the shakeup of the department and commission power lineup.

Whitely, editor and publisher of the Presque Isle County Advance, has been a commission member since April, 1961. He will serve for a one-year term.

Johnson Faces 512 Reporters At Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, deploring violence and disorder in the civil rights struggle, says all groups should exercise moderation and try to understand the other fellow's viewpoint.

Johnson was asked to comment Thursday, at his biggest-ever news conference, on civil rights demonstrations that run against the law or threaten violence.

He replied:

"We do not, of course, condone violence or taking the law into your own hands, or threatening the health or safety of our people. You really do the civil rights cause no good when you go to this extent."

Plans To "Continue"

The President also expounded on national defense controversies, the rail negotiations, the booming economy and politics.

At one point, he virtually announced his candidacy for a four-year White House term, saying he was enjoying his work and "prepared to continue."

The conference, broadcast live by television and radio networks, marked Johnson's first appearance in the big State Department auditorium where President John F. Kennedy held all his sessions with newsmen.

Wearing television blue, Johnson faced the biggest news conference crowd on record—512 reporters and conventioners members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The previous high was 437 for a 1961 Kennedy conference.

Speaking slowly, softly, and tossing out occasional quips, Johnson volunteered eight announcements and fielded 16 questions with apparent ease during the 31-minute conference.

Hard Campaign Asked

Asked to give his attitude on civil disobedience as a tactic in the civil rights struggle, Johnson said, "We do not think the violation of one right or the denial of one right, should permit the violation of another right."

The President said he would "counsel moderation to all groups, and understanding of their fellow men and trying to appreciate his position."

He said that as long as racial discrimination exists, "We are going to have protests and we are entitled to protest and petition under our constitutional rights."

But he expressed the view that Senate action "with reasonable dispatch" on the civil rights bill would "bring those protests and bring those disturbances from the streets and the alleys into the courts where they belong."

In the political sphere, Johnson said he expects the presidential campaign to be "a hard fight, a difficult one." And he drew laughter by adding, "I would hope that it wouldn't be too close."

Hopes Poll Is Right

Reminded that a poll of editors indicated broad expectation of a Johnson victory at the polls, the President commented, "I hope that they feel in November as they do in April."

And when asked if he were concerned about the possibility that independent electors committed to neither major party might be elected in Southern states, Johnson said:

"I would always be concerned about any elector that was not committed to vote for me."

Questioned about conflicting high-level statements comparing American and Soviet missile and air strength, Johnson said, "I am pleased with our strength."

He said the Kennedy and Johnson administrations have spent $25 billion more for defense in the past three years than would have been spent had the rate of the final year of the Eisenhower administration continued. He said this money has bought "extra combat divisions, extra nuclear warheads, extra missile strength."

Defense Budget Adopted

Johnson said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "op-

Body Of Second Mine Cave-In Victim Recovered

cuers late Thursday night recovered the body of the second miner crushed to death in a cave-in Wednesday in Idaho's biggest zinc mine.

The body of Barney McCoy, 48, of Wallace, Idaho, had been located at midmorning Thursday, but debris in the deep shaft of the Star mine stalled recovery efforts.

The body of his companion, Reed Peck, 41, also from the Wallace area, was brought to the surface about five hours after the shaft caved in following an earth slippage in the tunnel area.

Cutter Inquiry Facts Withheld

STURGEON BAY—A two day coast guard investigation into the grounding of the cutter Mesquite near Escanaba concluded Wednesday. Cmdr. John M. Austin, who held the hearing behind closed doors, said the board's findings would not be made public.

He said the investigation was a "fact finding" effort to try to learn what caused the Mesquite to run aground last Friday while setting a shipping buoy in Lake Michigan.

The tug John Purves, also of Sturgeon Bay, ran aground near the Mesquite trying to pull it off a shoal. Both vessels were freed Saturday.

Among mariners of the Escanaba area there was general agreement that the Mesquite came to grief on the rocks of Eleven Foot Shoal in part because of low water conditions on Lake Michigan, now lowest of record for more than a century.

The area where the cutter and later the tug went aground is known as "The Devil's Ten Acres" and was the graveyard for many ships in an earlier day.

Before Minneapolis Shoal light was built, there was a lightship anchored throughout the season at Eleven Foot Shoal. Automatic navigation aids replaced the lightship.

The disabled cutter was brought to Escanaba for temporary repairs and then proceeded to Sturgeon Bay. ENCM W. H. Fowler of the Mesquite wrote the Escanaba Daily

Press and Radio WLST: "On behalf of the crew members and myself let me take this opportunity to thank you for the kindness shown the Coast Guard Cutter Mesquite, on our recent accident. Your people are surely typical of the American standard of friendship and kindness. Once again let me thank you very much."

Ivan Gonser Leaving U.P.

Bishop Marshall R. Reed, Bishop of the Michigan Area of the Methodist Church, while at a recent meeting of the Upper Peninsula Methodist ministers held in Sault Ste. Marie, announced the appointment of Dr. Ivan O. Gonser to First Methodist Church of Port Huron.

The appointment is to become effective at the adjournment of the 1964 session of the Detroit Annual Conference to be held at Adrian College from June 17-21.

The law of the Church limits the tenure of superintendents to a maximum of six years. The Rev. James R. Balfour, presently pastor of First Methodist Church, Port Huron, has been appointed to succeed Dr. Gonser as superintendent of the Marquette District, which includes the entire Upper Peninsula of Michigan with a total of 68 churches.

Dr. Gonser is a native of the Upper Peninsula. He spent his childhood and youth in Newberry and Sault Ste. Marie. He left from Sault Ste. Marie in 1927 to begin his training for the ministry. He attended the George Williams College in Chicago, and graduated from Eastern Michigan University and the Chicago Training School, now a part of Garrett Seminary. In 1959 an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree was conferred upon Rev. Gonser by Adrian College.

Dr. Gonser has served three pastorates in the Upper Peninsula, St. Ignace, Gladstone, and Ironwood. He has also served on the Ann Arbor and the Saginaw Bay Districts.

Dr. and Mrs. Gonser have four sons, one of whom is a Methodist Minister now serving the church in Munith, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Gonser have resided in Marquette for six years where the Marquette District headquarters are located.

Continue Check On Bottle Gas

Inspection of bottle gas installations within the City of Escanaba is being made for the safety of the public, and numerous installations are still in violation of Ordinance No. 403, said Fire Chief Nels Bergeon.

Robert Osier has completed 457 initial inspections on bottle gas installations. "We are asking the gas suppliers to mail the application forms to the Fire Department when corrections are made for reinspection," said Chief Bergeon. "Inspections are made from the gas cylinders to the connected appliances. Violations are cited and the users are notified to inform their suppliers of these violations."

Violations are varied, such as gas cylinders too close to doors and windows, unvented hot water heaters, space heaters and furnaces, cylinder tanks of a size larger than 100 pounds which are too close to the buildings and property lines, soldered instead of mechanical fittings, and unanchored or poorly anchored, and unprotected service lines, it was reported.

Reinspections will be made of violations and if they have not been corrected within 15-day period a report will be made to the fire chief for proper enforcement under the ordinance.

"When purchasing automatic gas burning appliances for use in the City of Escanaba, the buyers should insist that the appliances are approved by a nationally recognized gas testing laboratory, such as Underwriters or the American Gas Association," said the fire chief.

Such approved appliances display, in addition to the approved seal, a statement on an attached plate that it is approved for use with propane gas only. Appliances used with gases for which they were not designed or equipped may be hazardous.

Person who did not have an inspection of their bottle gas installation and appliances were asked to write Fire Chief Nels Bergeon, 1026 1st Ave. S., or call ST6-1928.

Delta Second In Auto Count

Delta ranks third among the counties of the Upper Peninsula in population, but second in the number of motor vehicles. It has more than a motor vehicle for every two persons.

Marquette, which is first in population is also first in the number of automobiles and trucks registered. It had a total of 28,244 motor vehicles registered in 1963, says Secretary of State James Hare.

Delta County had 12,734 cars and 2,582 trucks for a total of 17,984 vehicles to serve its 34,298 population.

The number of vehicles by counties:
Marquette 28,244.
Delta 17,984.

Charles Greis Dies Suddenly

Charles J. Greis, 71, of 1208 S. 14th St., died suddenly at his home at 10:30 a. m. Thursday.

Mr. Greis was born July 7, 1892 in Escanaba and had been a life-long resident of the community. Before his retirement in 1957 he was a dock worker for the C&NW Railroad. During World War I he served in the U. S. Navy from 1918 to 1921. He was a member of St. Joseph's Church, the Holy Name Society and Iron Ore Handlers, Local Union 400.

He is survived by his wife, the former Claire Gouley; one son, Robert Bourges, Scottsdale, Ariz.; two daughters, Mrs. Edward (Jean) Powers, LaCrescenta, Calif. and Mrs. Sharon Sulc, Hollywood, Calif.; one sister, Miss Marie Greis, two brothers, Michael and Clarence, all of Escanaba; and four grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home after 3 p. m. Sunday. Parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services are scheduled for 9 a. m. Monday at St. Joseph's Church with Rev. Jordan Telles OFM, officiating. Military rites will be directed by Archie Wood, chaplain of the American Legion. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Ore Centennial Honors Will Be Accorded C&NW

Honoring of the Chicago & North Western Railway and a community homecoming as part of the Escanaba Ore Centennial celebration for the July 4 weekend received the wholehearted endorsement of the City Council last night.

"A very good idea," Mayor George Rusch replied to the suggestion of the Delta County Historical Society that such an observance should be held commemorating 100 years of ore shipping.

John J. Mitchell, president of the Historical Society, directed attention to the significance of Ore Centennial, and a letter from the directors of the Society was received by the city and placed on file.

The Society noted that it was 100 years ago this spring that the first cargoes of iron ore were loaded at Escanaba. In the century whose anniversary is being marked by this year's celebration a total of more than 336 million tons of iron ore have been moved from Escanaba, the only iron port on Lake Michigan.

The contributions of the Chicago & North Western Railway to the economic health and future of the community were cited by the Historical Society, with the comment that it would be appropriate to give recognition to the C&NW as part of the Ore Centennial program.

A homecoming would also bring Escanabans back for the celebration, which would prove of value to the entire community and would be an attraction to visitors.

Mitchell said that City Manager George Harvey had suggested Carl Hogberg, Escanaba native, and now vice president of U. S. Steel, as a speaker for the Ore Centennial.

Perhaps a banquet on Friday night July 3, followed by the Fourth of July parade and program in Ludington Park, plus special features that might include tours to the C&NW ore dock by land and water would be appropriate, Mitchell said.

Councilman Jacob Bink endorsed the suggestion and said it is time to get moving and coordinate the activities with the Chamber of Commerce and the C&NW.

The city manager said that he had consulted with John Anthony, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, and that he had been assured that the Chamber would have an Ore Centennial general chairman selected within a few days. Mayor Rusch thanked the Historical Society for its kick-off of the Ore Centennial. There was brief discussion by the Council of other projects of the Historical Society, including the erection of historical markers in the city and county.

In other business the Council discussed the city's method of taking bids for purchases. The city manager said the specifications are drawn so that at least three major firms may bid, and that copies of the specifications are provided to the Councilmen for examination at least two weeks before bids are taken. Councilman Harold Vanlerberghe broached the subject with questions in the light of a controversy over bids action by the Escanaba Area Public Schools board recently.

The Council accepted the resignation of Edward J. Cox from the Civil Service Commission with reluctance, and commended the former councilman for his services to the city. Cox said the resignation was necessary because of a change in his work assignment.

The Council reappointed Frank Bourke and Bob Anderson to the Recreation Board; and engaged the Andrew Skaug Co. to do the 1963-64 city audit.

C&NW Quarter 15 Year Record

The Chicago & North Western Railway today reported net income of $430,175 for the first time since 1945 that the railroad has had net income at the end of the first quarter.

The net income for the first three months of this year is an improvement of $2,132,538 over the net loss of $1,702,363 reported for the same period in 1963.

Net income and special credits for the first quarter of 1964 totaled $1,211,382 as compared to a deficit of $1,613,436 for the first quarter of 1963. Ben W. Heineman, chairman of the North Western, explained that the first quarter improvement in operations reflects an increase in revenues of $732,274 and a decrease of $880,573 in freight car rent expense as well as a decrease of $589,261 in operating expenses, notwithstanding an increase of $197,474 in maintenance expenditures.

"While mild weather in the first quarter contributed to reduced operating expenses and freight car rentals," said Heineman, "the freight car rentals were also favorably affected by the North Western's continuing program of repairing and rebuilding its freight car fleet." First quarter results do not reflect any abnormally high grain revenues because large shipments of grain for export originally anticipated by business and government actually did not materialize.

County Adding $120,000 Value To Taxing Base

Delta County's 1964 tax valuations show a healthy survival and growth despite sizeable industrial valuation losses because of the increasing practice of American business to reduce its inventories and operate with less taxable materials and finished products in the bin.

The reduction in personal property at industrial plants in the county was also affected by the good condition of business. Paradoxically, tax valuations rise when business is least able to pay them because finished products are accumulated to keep people employed even though they can't be sold immediately and must be put in inventory.

The reduction of pulpwood yard stocks is reflected in the reduced industrial assessments for the county and manufacturing personal property valuations are also down.

The Delta County Board of Supervisors in its April meeting this week equalized valuations of the 14 townships and two cities in the county at a total of $78,129,131, which is $120,231 more than in 1963.

The assessed valuation of Delta County for 1964 is $69,638,015, which is $314,150 more than the 1963 figures.

$120,000 Value Added

Thus the county was able to balance off all its losses of valuation and downward adjustments and still come up with more than $314,000 in additions, of which $120,000 is be-

Empire Example

The people who drive to Palmer Saturday for the public open house at the Empire Mine will be impressed by the enormity and costliness of everything.

Here is a big, modern iron mine plant grinding up magnetite ore at one end and spitting out little marbles at the other. In between is machinery that cost nearly $50 million and there's more to come as the plant is enlarged to double its present capacity of 1.2 million tons of pellets a year.

The Republic mine of Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. and its partners has even larger capacity, but the Empire Mine plans for eventual development are the greatest ever conceived in Upper Michigan mineral industry. The only magnetic ore body workable now in the Upper Peninsula is that at the Empire Mine.

Its expectancy of operation is until the year 2000 at least. It is a huge achievement in many fields, in technology, in organization, in salesmanship, finance and governmental cooperation.

Credit for the development of the magnetite ore resource at Palmer, where earlier shaft mines nibbled at the formation now being mined from the surface, goes first of all to Cliffs, although it must be shared with its partners, McLouth Steel Corp. of Detroit, and the Inland Steel and International Harvester companies of Chicago.

Cliffs is the operating partner and it was Cliffs which earlier developed the Humboldt and Republic surface mines and their beneficiation and pelletizing plants. Cliffs brought partners into the ventures in the manner of much modern industrial organization.

Cliffs' developments have changed the whole complexion of the economy on the Marquette Range. It was skidding when Cliffs started its program of research and development of iron ores for modern steel making years ago. Because of Cliffs' leadership the Marquette Range today has three modern mine plants. The Menominee Range has one. The Gogebic has none and it has been dependent upon mineral industry and it is in serious economic distress.

The key element in the rebirth of iron mining on the Marquette Range was Cliffs' ownership of large mineral resources. Such deposits of mineral in the natural state are of value only if they are used. They didn't benefit the Indians one bit.

The closing of many shaft mines with their reserves not exhausted points the great change in iron mining. The steel mills don't favor the kind of ore which has made the Lake Superior iron industry prosperous for more than a century. The mills want ores with high iron content; preferably ore that has been pelletized.

The Empire Mine makes high grade pellets for its owners. A spokesman for one of them, McLouth Steel Vice President C. Thorne Murphy, said that six other resources like that of the Empire are known in the Upper Peninsula and amenable to similar development. How does the area go about obtaining their development?

Clearly in encouraging the owners to venture the millions of dollars necessary for such development. This was done with the Empire Mine.

Michigan has a Department of Economic Expansion devoted to such development. It could have no more important function than helping to create the kind of industrial climate which resulted in the development of the Empire magnetite. But the Department can never be a substitute for a public interest in economic development or for support of legislative action to encourage it.

There's lots of iron in Upper Michigan. But there's a lot in Minnesota, too, and McLouth Steel, which is a partner in the Empire, owns iron deposits in Wisconsin. The problem of the mineral area is to get its resources developed. Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. and its partners have done this very well in the Upper Peninsula. The process aids the whole economy and spirit of the area.

The Doctor Says:

Ailment Can Be Cured

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt.

Q—What is the cause of hemorrhoids and what is the best treatment?

A—A hemorrhoid is an enlargement of one of the veins at the outlet of the bowel. There are two principal types. One is the small acutely inflamed hemorrhoid close to the outlet which can often be relieved by rectal suppositories.

Failing this, your doctor can make a simple incision and remove the clot. The other type is the enlargement of several veins a little higher in the rectum. This type almost always has to be removed surgically.

Factors that may cause hemorrhoids include prolonged straining at stool, pregnancy and hereditary weakness of the supporting tissues around the rectal veins.

Q—I have heard that sauerkraut juice is good for stomach ulcers. Is this true?

A—Fresh cabbage juice, not sauerkraut juice, has been used in the treatment of peptic ulcers. Some observers have reported beneficial results, but this treatment must be considered experimental. It is not a substitute for the other measures that have long been used to treat ulcers.

Q—My doctor has had me take Orinase for almost three years. My urine tests show no sugar. Should I go on taking this medicine?

A—You undoubtedly have a mild, well-controlled case of diabetes. The purpose of the tolbutamide (Orinase) is to keep the urine from showing any sugar. If your doctor is in doubt as to whether you should continue to take this drug, he will recheck your blood sugar and glucose tolerance test. He would be more likely to reduce the dose than to discontinue it. In any case it would be unwise to make any change in your routine without his recommendation.

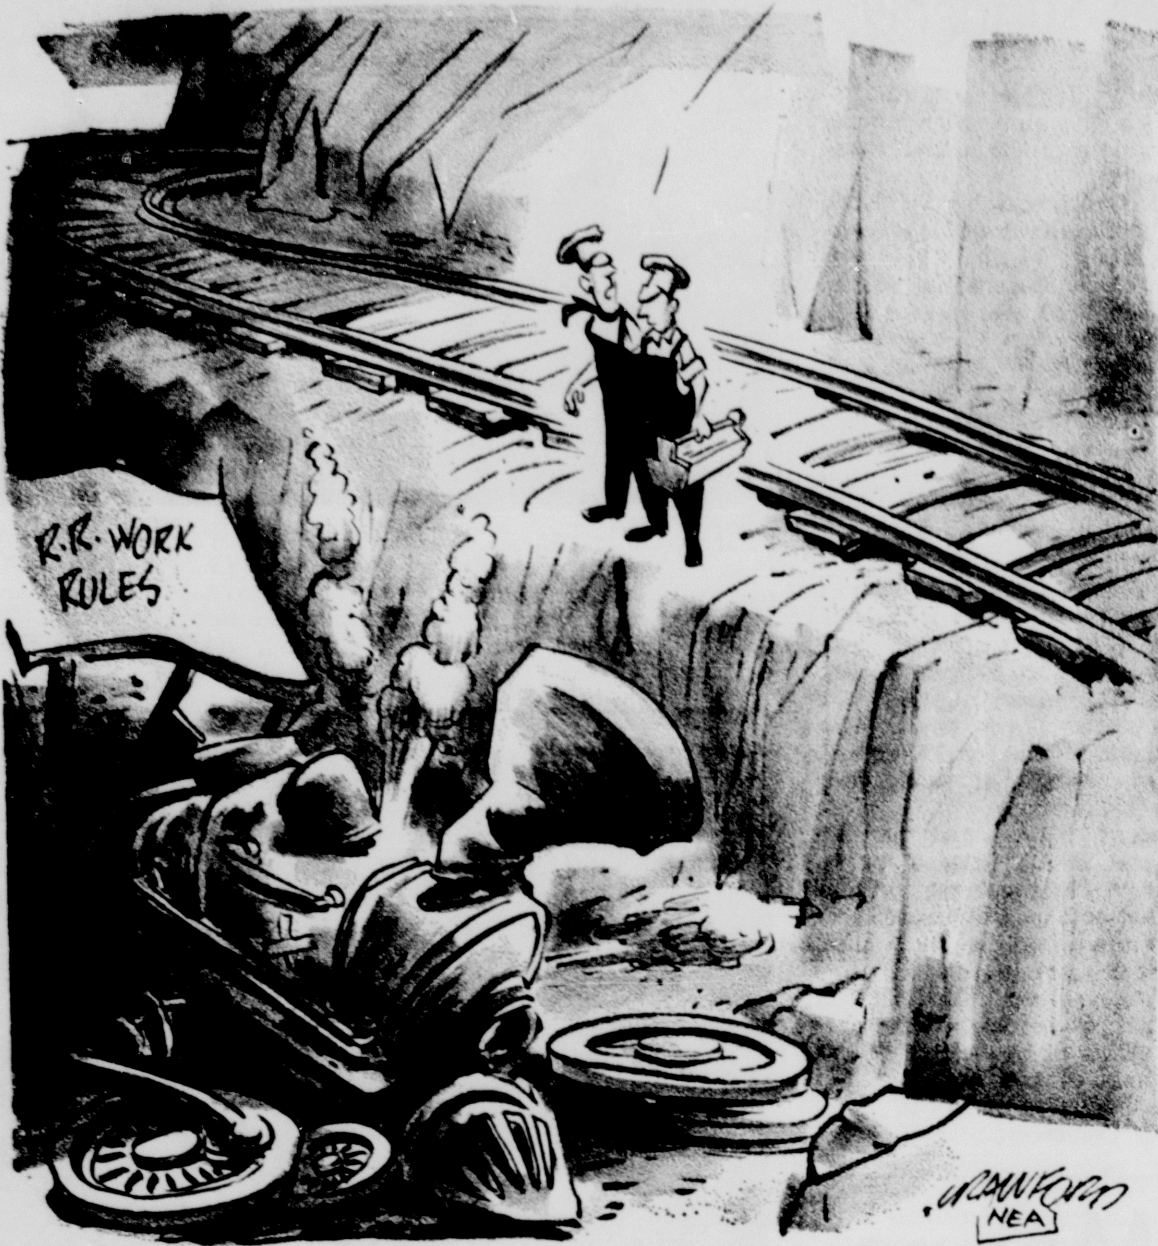

Q—I recently pulled my hamstring muscle. My doctor recommended rest and sunbathing followed by moderate kicking exercises. Will this cure it?

A—The treatment you received should have led to recovery by now. Some doctors advocate alternating hot and cold packs—10 or 15 minutes each for 40 to 60 minutes two or three times a day. One of the steroid hormones (cortisone group) usually speeds recovery. Care should be taken not to repeat the injury as the cure becomes more difficult each time it occurs in the same muscle.

Q—Would an injection of 300,000 units of penicillin be considered an overdose for a person who is allergic to it?

A—Any dose of penicillin (or any other drug) is an overdose for a person with an allergy to that drug. That is the reason you should always tell your doctor of any known drug allergies you may have.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When I remember Gen. Douglas MacArthur personally, I remember him not as a general but as the "governor" of Japan during the U. S. occupation after World War II.

I knew the Japanese well for six pre-war years as foreign correspondent in Tokyo. I knew them again for two years under the MacArthur occupation. MacArthur's personal influence as a man on the Japanese was profound.

The Japanese understood MacArthur. He was like one of their shoguns, who kept himself behind a curtain and ruled through third men. MacArthur's genius was in ruling through Japanese forms.

He did not make the mistake of removing Emperor Hirohito. He ruled through the emperor. But he made vast changes in the monarchy.

The emperor renounced his claim to divinity. Nobles lost their titles. The legislature and popular voting dominated the government, but it still operated under many of the forms of the old imperial way. Also, in the old imperial way, MacArthur was the advisor behind the throne.

In a sense, MacArthur was more Japanese to the Japanese than they themselves.

Now, it is true that MacArthur made mistakes. The new constitution was so written that the Japanese could not understand it.

I remember being at a private gathering at the home of Japan's leading constitutional lawyer, Dr. Masamichi Royama, when he attempted to explain the MacArthur constitution to a group of his friends, all university graduates. The meanings were so difficult to explain in Japanese that he was forced to do a goodly share of his explaining in English.

The after-war purges dragged out so long they lost their meaning in many cases. There were excesses in applying western concepts to Japan too quickly. MacArthur created an economic mishmash in his attempts to break up the Zaibatsu (the big family monopolies) with amateur trust busters.

But by and large MacArthur's actions—even those in which his programs foundered—were moves leading toward more individual liberty and respect for the average Japanese.

MacArthur's programs broke the back of the latent communism, which was very strong in Japan at the end of the war. The Communists were prepared and organized. They had a brilliant theoretician and tactician in Nosaka (Okano).

But MacArthur was giving the Japanese in fact the things Communist propagandists promise as bait but don't deliver.

One example: He instituted one of the most effective land reform programs ever carried out in any country.

Naturally, many of MacArthur's changes failed. Nevertheless, the result was a stable, essentially democratic political system friendly to the United States, and a successful, prosperous, rapidly expanding economic system.

Movies Taken Inside Heart

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A surgeon showed scenes from thrilling movies taken inside the living heart with a new internal periscope today.

The periscope is thrust down a blood vessel into dogs' hearts. There, it lights up the interior of the heart, and walls, to take movies. A heart specialist then can look through the tube to see what is going on and decide whether surgery is needed to make heart repairs.

An improved, flexible, instrument now is being built, said Walter J. Gamble of Children's Hospital in Boston.

If it proves safe in animal tests, it will be used to inspect the interior of human hearts.

Dr. Gamble and Robert E. Innes of the American Optical Co., Southbridge, Mass., described the new instrument to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Just as a periscope allows the captain of a submarine to see the sky above him, the internal periscope can probe into a body organ without surgery.

Dr. Gamble has taken slow-motion movies of the aortic valve, which opens and closes as the heart pumps blood out into the body. And he has movies of the inside of the right upper chamber of the dog heart, the right and left lower chambers, and the valve between the upper and lower chambers on the right side.

Thousands of children are born with heart defects. The heart periscope inspection could show surgeons what had to be done before they operate.

Dr. Gamble said he had once had a peek at the aorta. In adults, inspection of that great artery might show whether it was affected by the "rust" that underlies heart attacks.

The periscope into dogs' hearts is only about half the roundness of a cigarette and 21 inches long. Through incisions in the neck of anesthetized dogs, it has been pushed gently down through blood vessels into the heart.

Ann Landers

Don't Pay Off Mystery Debts

Dear Ann Landers: My sister's husband was a salesman. Artie knew all kinds of people. A few days ago Artie dropped dead of a heart attack. The funeral was yesterday. After the funeral several people came by the house to be with my sister and sit around the way they do when a friend passes away.

Two men whom my sister had never seen before took her aside and told her that they had loaned Artie money. One man said he had borrowed $400 when he had gotten over his head in a crap game. The other fellow said he still had $300 coming from the second Liston-Patterson fight.

My sister was bewildered. She knew very little about her husband's gambling and betting practices. She had never seen these men before and they had nothing in writing. At the moment she's plenty short of cash, but she says if Artie owed the money she wants to pay it. What is your advice? —TRY-ING TO HELP

Dear Trying: The timing of these birds is interesting.

Since they have nothing in writing — and she never saw them before — I'd advise her to ignore the pressure.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 15-year-old daughter complains that we never let her use her own judgment or make her own decisions. She put on a great big sell, pointing out that the must learn from experience how to handle money and be independent.

We agreed to give her $400 on her 15th birthday which was exactly 60 days ago. She was to buy her own clothes, lunches, do whatever she wanted with the money, and six months later she was to get another $400.

Last night she asked for the second $400 now because she doesn't have a dime to her name. I wasn't surprised because I saw the foolish things she did during the first week of the "Plan For Independence." She paid $10 for a set of mink eyelashes and $49.50 for a pair of gold satin lounging pajamas.

Should we give her another chance? She says she has learned her lesson and that this next $400 will last six months for sure. Yes or no? —UNDECIDED

Dear Un: If you give this 15-year-old numbskull another $400 you are out of your minds for sure.

What do you mean, another chance? To do what — assist the economy? Make out a budget of her normal expenses and give her exactly that — one week at a time and not a dime more.

Dear Ann Landers: Our teacher was called out of the room by the principal last Thursday. She put me in charge because I am the class president.

Two of my best friends began to throw erasers and chalk. One eraser hit a girl in the face and knocked off her glasses. The glasses didn't break but the girl is a nervous type and she began to cry. The teacher walked in right in the middle of everything. She asked me for the names of the kids who were out of line. I had to give her the names of my best friends.

They lost their privileges for one week and now they're sore at me. They called me a rat and a fink and a lousy stool pigeon.

I feel awful. Did I do right or wrong? —JERRY

Dear Jerry: You did right. It was your responsibility to maintain order. If your friends would not co-operate they deserved to be reported. Moreover, your own honor and integrity were on the line. Real frinds can't expect you to use influence to cover up for them when they are out of order. Make no apologies — ever.

Dear Ann Landers: Ten years ago I married a woman with a five-year-old daughter. From the start, this girl has been the source of problems between us. I thought I could handle it. Now I'm not so sure.

About 18 months ago my wife permitted her daughter to open up three charge accounts. The girl is not mature, in spite of her mother's bragging to the contrary. I became aware of the charge accounts when the girl began to loan her charge plates to friends. Whether her friends ever paid for their purchases I don't know. I never saw any of the money.

After several months of such foolishness I closed the girl's accounts. My wife promptly retaliated by moving into the guest room. She had been there for over a year.

I don't wish to live on one side of a "wall" for the rest of my life. Do you think the solution to our problem is a finishing school for the girl? —N. E. L.

Dear N. E. L.: No. The girl is not the problem, she is simply the battlefield on which you and your wife are fighting your own little war.

A wife who would impose this type of exile on her husband has no respect for the physical aspects of marriage. When sex is used as a payment for favors — and is withheld as punishment — it places the marriage at the prostitution level.

Insist that she see a clergyman with you or you will put more than a wall between you.

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest your recent column dealing with the little boy whose ears stuck out at right angles. The child was self-conscious about his ears and the children at school made his life miserable by teasing him. The boy's mother was undecided about surgery.

May I give that mother the benefit of my experience? Our son was born with ears that protruded badly. The doctor advised us to have his ears set back the summer before he entered kindergarten. He explained that the operation was a relatively simple one. The child was in the hospital only one night, and he never once complained of pain.

The results were wonderful. The boy looks so much better now, and his personality reflects confidence and friendliness. We can't help feeling sorry for children whose ears protrude because we know how easily it can be corrected. Please encourage her. —T.L.B.

Dear T.L.B.: Yours was one of dozens of letters I received supporting this procedure. I do not have the right to recommend surgery. I can only present the information. The parents must decide.

Dear Ann Landers: How much does a daughter owe her mother? I am a career girl, aged 29, and I live at home because my mother needs the money.

My father left 11 years ago and I didn't blame him. Mother has a violent temper and she opened his head with a milk bottle once too often.

For the past year my mother's sister has lived with us. This aunt works and pays my mother room and board. They argue all the time and I'm a nervous wreck from the screaming, swearing and table-pounding. They never get to bed before 1:00 a. m. and must be up at 6:00 a. m. My aunt doesn't have to be at work until 9:00 a. m. so she's in fine shape after eight hours of sleep.

1880 INVESTMENT

I saw by the local newspaper that there were going to be some improvements made to the dock facilities at Escanaba. It occurred to me that the people might find it interesting to read of an earlier improvement. I don't know how accurate the information is but following is part of the contents of a letter that I have which was written from Escanaba and dated Aug. 28, 1880.

"I think the prospects of Escanaba are better than any place in the Upper Peninsula. The North Western Company are going to tare down their old dock and put up another in its place which will cost them a million dollars. That will make them three docks worth about a million a piece.

"Besides they are adding 19 new stalls to their roundhouse this fall and putting up new offices. Their shipments amount to from 30 to 60,000 tons of ore per week for which they get $1.50 per ton for shipping, so you get some idea of the extent of their business. It takes $40,000 per month to pay their employees in Escanaba alone.

"A new mining district has been opened up known as the North Range and there is a good prospect of getting a road from there here. If they do it will add very much to the ore shipments another year."

In another place the letter states: "I have decided to buy a lot. I can get a corner lot looking off on the bay for $300. Rent is very high here from $10 to $20 per month."

The letter was from a Frank Thompson to his father, William Thompson in Fenton, Mich.

I hope this may be of interest to someone.

When a woman marries a man for his money she spends their life together.

You never get over being tired of getting out of bed though you've been doing it all your life.

A California judge explained to a man how silly it was to leave his wife for throwing a cherry pie at him. The man replied, "But I like lemon."

Give yourself a break, as well as other motorists, by having your brakes relined when they need it.

These past six months I have lost 10 pounds. I walk around the office half dead. When I told my mother I was moving she said, "You can't. I need your check." What should I do? —INEZ

Dear Inez: Move and give your mother whatever you can afford. If you have a breakdown how much help will you be to your mother?

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either.

But if you'd like for your next new car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmission of new cars.

Three out of four for Buick

The long-time champion in the transmission league—Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four entries, three winners.

The winning Specials carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick transmissions well known for their smoothness and absence of "shift feel". The Super Turbine is a refined and improved torque converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as gas stations. You'll hear a lot about it in the next couple of years as this modern kind of transmission is adopted by more and more car builders.

What about engines?

Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plants were our new V-6 and V-8.

The 300 cubic inch V-8 is the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscle, no fat. Weighs in at far less than other V-8's of similar punch. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas

The Run was through cities and towns, across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars.

The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas.

So the Economy Run is not just a cross country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of its fuel.

We don't expect everybody to rush out this week-end to buy a new Buick just because we won a few economy trophies.

There are so many other good reasons for leaning to Buick that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, naturally. An unusually great ride. Extraordinary engineering and workmanship. And very young performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.

GLADSTONE

Rag Campaign Pushed Here

The Rags to Riches drive is moving ahead in Gladstone thanks to the push given the campaign by Mrs. George Maniaci, whose son, Mark, will be one of the students enrolled in the new John F. Kennedy School for Retarded Children.

The Exchange Club and the Aqua-Nuts water ski club are sponsors of the county-wide campaign to raise funds to help finance the day school and to provide dental care for children of underprivileged children in Delta County.

Mrs. Maniaci took the Aqua-Nuts ski trailer in tow, hauled it to Gladstone, and placed it in a vacant lot on main street as a rags collection center. Her son, Mark, assisted her in placing the trailer.

Rags collected there and at the Exchange Club barrels in Gladstone will be taken to Escanaba and the Olson Transportation warehouse for processing. Contributors are asked to remove buttons and zippers before placing the rags in containers.

The fund is growing from the sale of the rags, the sponsors report. There were orders for an additional 1,500 pounds of processed rags received Thursday. Commercial and industrial buyers are asked to place orders through ST6-2992.

This evening students of Escanaba Area High School and the Aqua-Nuts are meeting at the Olson terminal at 7 o'clock to process rags. Offers of assistance have also come from the Escanaba Police Department. Helpers are welcomed every evening to the Olson Transportation Co. terminal. All volunteers are asked to bring a pair of scissors.

Danny Kaye's Burn Painful

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Kaye, who made an off-hand reference to a leg injury on his CBS Wednesday night show, actually had a serious accident.

Kaye was making spaghetti for a party of 15 at his home 10 days ago when a pot of boiling water spilled over his right leg and foot. Foot and leg swelled into an enormous, intensely painful blister that put him in bed for five days.

CBS executives urged Danny to rerun an earlier program this week but the comedian was determined not to skip a show. He devised and rehearsed Wednesday's entire show around a specially constructed wheelchair. His injured leg was propped up and surrounded by a protective cage.

Danny, throughout the program, was seen only in closeup—never below the waist and never moving around. And it was still a swell show.

"If it goes well," he cracked

Voice Choir At PTA Meeting

STEPHENSON—The regular meeting of the PTA will be held in the All-Purpose Room of the Stephenson Elementary Tuesday, April 21, at 8 p. m. The program, which will be held before the business meeting, will start promptly at 8. A Verse-Choir consisting of 123 sophomores and 30 seniors will provide the program. The group will be directed by Mrs. Clara Lang of the High School English Department with James Dougovito, a senior, acting as moderator.

Beacon Approved

LANSING (AP) — The State Aeronautics Commission has approved a grant of $4,000 in state funds for the Iron County Airport at Crystal Falls, to be matched by federal funds, for the construction of a new rotary beacon at the Upper Peninsula.

earlier, "maybe we should do them all sitting down."

It will be, in fact, at least another six weeks before Kaye can do a show on his foot, and he is still in considerable pain. But the show is going on.

Rusty Hamer, 17, On TV 12 Years

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Gee, I hope I don't fall into obscurity," says 17-year-old Rusty Hamer. "I'm going to do everything I can to avoid it."

Offhand the picture of a high school senior worrying about obscurity might seem faintly ridiculous. But Rusty is not an ordinary 17-year-old. He has just finished an acting engagement that lasted 12 years, about as far back as he can remember.

The boy played Danny Thomas' son in the comedian's weekly television show, and Rusty was the only cast member who spanned the series' entire history. He made the pilot film when he was only 5, but already a performer before women's clubs and in community theatricals.

The Danny Thomas show filmed its final segment last month following Danny's voluntary retirement as a weekly television performer.

"General Foods begged Danny to continue," said Rusty at his Santa Monica home. "But he thought it was time to quit. How did I feel? Not sad, really. You can't go on doing the same thing all your life."

"I haven't had much reaction at all. Of course it might hit me next fall, when I would ordinarily be starting to go back into production."

Without that prospect, Rusty has had to give some solid thought to the future.

"I want to work right away, and the prospects are good," he said. "They're interested in me for several of the 'Mr. Novak' shows at MGM. Walt Disney is interested in me. And there are chances I might do shows like 'Dr. Kildare,' 'Ben Casey' and 'Arrest and Trial.' I'd like that. I want to do some dramatic shows. There were some dramatic moments in the Thomas show, but mostly it was played for laughs."

But it won't be all work for Rusty's future. He'll be graduated from Palisades High School in June and go on to college.

Adult Education Assn. To Meet

The Upper Peninsula section of the Michigan Adult Education Association will hold its annual meeting Saturday in Gwin High School. Invited are association members as well as non-members who are interested in any phase of the adult education movement.

Eight Michigan citizens are to be honored for their contributions to adult education. The meeting, which begins at 10 a.m. and ends at 3 p.m., will include a tour of the new high school system at Gwin.

Luncheon reservations can be made by contacting Milton Johnson at the Marquette public schools.

The United States imported more than 125 million pounds of tea last year, the Tea Council of the U.S.A. reports.

Bay Level At Low For Century

The water level of Little Bay de Noc-Green Bay and of Lake Michigan was the lowest in the first quarter of 1964 in at least 103 years. U. S. Army engineers have been keeping records that long.

They attribute the record low level of the lake and its bays to an extended period of subnormal rainfall.

Groundwater tables are also at record low levels, reports the Michigan Department of Health. Geological Survey officials in Escanaba say that unless spring rains are substantial, the levels will be even lower by mid-summer.

Communities with groundwater supplies can cope with the problem, suggests the Health Department by curbing waste of water, keeping records of pumpage, and drilling additional wells before the demand exceeds the capacity of existing supplies.

The Health Department reports that elevated storage tanks are to be erected in 7

Upper Peninsula water system. The cities, with the proposed tank capacities are: Houghton 500,000, Lake Linden 50,000, L'Anse 200,000, Manistique 50,000, Menominee 750,000, Marquette Prison 250,000, Watersmeet 50,000.

St. Ignace has had most relief from water shortage conditions. Its water system pumpage has been the lowest since 1955 following repair of several leaks in mains.

FTA Chapter Will Receive Its Charter

STEPHENSON—The F. T. A. Charter will be represented to the Chapter at a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, April 23 at the Stephenson Elementary School. The ceremony will also include installation of officers and acceptance of new members from the Sophomore class.

Herbert Corey, secretary of the Board of Education, Alfred Raether, president of the local M. E. A. Chapter and Edmer Lacasse, high school principal will take part in the ceremonies.

Prospective chapters from Menominee and Carney High Schools have been invited to attend.

The first chapter of Future Teachers of America in Michigan was organized in Stephenson in 1945-46. The chapter remained active until 1958 under the leadership of Miss Fannie Springfield and Mrs. Lenora Lienna.

Last spring the group was reorganized under the sponsorship of Mrs. Clara Lang and Kenneth Anderson, faculty members.

with Roy Crandall

Athletically speaking, Escanaba's loss was Peoria's gain. Mark Olson, who played a big part in sports here for many years, moved with his family to Peoria and the Olsons have made quite an impact on the sports picture in that city.

Mark, former star at Michigan Tech who was a spark for the Escanaba Hawks in their NMO league days, returned to the ice as an active player after six years away from the sport. Olson led the Peoria Stars to the Tri-States Hockey League season and playoff championships. He scored two goals in a 4-2 playoff championship victory over the University of Illinois team.

A member of the Peoria team was Mike Olson, Mark's oldest son who is a 16 year old sophomore at Richwoods High School in Peoria. Mike is a second baseman and leadoff batter on his high school baseball team.

Ricky Olson, 13, also is making his start in hockey at Peoria. His team recently competed in Springfield and defeated the St. Louis team coached by Eddie Olson, Mark's brother who is a professional hockey player. Ricky scored both goals in the 2-1 tournament victory over St. Louis.

In addition to playing hockey, Mark has been busy coaching the high school hockey team and refereeing games at the University of Illinois in Champaign, besides working on his masters degree at Bradley University.

Mark, his wife Elaine and their five children will be joined by a new addition to the family in June. Another hockey player, no doubt.

Pinson Is Off To Fast Start Without Bunts

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's fleet-footed Vada Pinson, who wound up in court last year for failing to speed, may have solved his problem. Criticized last year for not capitalizing on his speed by bunting for base hits, Pinson has stepped off to an unusually quick April start without laying one down. Instead, he's been laying them up the middle for base hits.

Pinson lashed three singles Thursday night and along with rookie Chico Ruiz, who collected a single, double and triple, provided enough firepower for the Reds to hand the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers their second loss in three games, 5-2. Pinson, who has been a National League batting title contender since he became a Cincinnati regular in 1959, has amassed 985 hits over that stretch—more than Stan Musial, 975; Willie Mays, 954; and Hank Aaron, 914, in their first five years.

Yet he always has been beset by the bunt-more-often critics. He was so incensed by one writer last season that the two tangled in the Reds' dressing room and ultimately finished up in a no-decision court battle with the matter dropped.

Whether to bunt or not still is up to Pinson, but he may be able to solve some of his problems with a solid start. He's 4-for-8 now, quite an improvement over last season when he managed only 10 hits in 60 April at-bats and still finished with a .313 average.

While Pinson was collecting three hits, St. Louis' Curt Simmons allowed only three to the hard-hitting San Francisco Giants, starting off his 17th season with a 2-0 shutout. In the only other game scheduled, Milwaukee edged Houston 6-5 with Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou playing key roles.

In American League action, Boston nipped the New York Yankees and spoiled Yogi Berra's managerial debut 4-3 in 11 innings. Baltimore defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and Minnesota belted Washington 6-2.

The Reds' Ruiz-Pinson combine was too much for the Dodgers. Ruiz doubled in the first and scored on a single by Pinson, then tripled in the fifth and rode home on another single by Pinson. In the fifth, Ruiz and Pinson both singled with Darn Johnson's sacrifice fly accounting for the run batted in.

That was more than enough for Jim O'Toole and Joe Nuxhall, who checked the Dodgers on eight hits. O'Toole retired the first 14 batters he faced, finally needed Nuxhall's relief in the ninth. The loser was Bob Miller.

Swimmer Sets New Standard

PITTSBURGH (AP) — One record was in the books after only two events and there was promise of more to come as the senior National AAU swimming and diving championships entered their second day today.

The record belongs to Sharon Finneran of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club. She swam the 1,500-yard freestyle in the University of Pittsburgh's 25-yard pool Thursday in 18:31.7, for an American and championship short-course record.

This was the first year the event has been held in the women's indoor championships. Miss Finneran's mark easily eclipsed the best previous ap-plied-for time of 18:42.3 set by her last Feb. 28.

The new titlist, trailing Miss Willard by a narrow margin going into the final round, put on a brilliant display to garner 409.05 points. Miss Willard had 397.55.

Little League Players Sign

Registration of players for the 1964 Escanaba Jaycee Little League Baseball season will continue through next week at Club 314 with the possibility of tryouts beginning Saturday, April 25.

Any youngster who will be nine by Aug. 1 and not 13 before Aug. 1 and lives in the Escanaba franchised area is eligible to register. Candidates must bring their birth certificates for verification when they pick up the registration blank.

In as much as the program is already two weeks behind because of weather, Karl Dickson, league secretary, urged the boys to pick up their blanks as soon as possible since only boys who have registered are eligible for tryouts.

With the loss of an outstanding crop of twelve year olds last fall and the possible addition of another team there is a definite prospect of a record number of new players coming in to the league in 1964. The 1963 Escanaba Jaycee All Stars were defeated 4 to 3 in the district finals by Superior last year which is as far as they have advanced since 1957 when they went to Williamsport.

There will be a complete complement of veteran managers back in the fold plus the addition of several experienced assistants as the Escanaba Jaycee Little Leaguers begin their 14th year of operation.

Escanaba was the second city in the state of Michigan to be franchised as league play dates back to 1951 when Gary Paler pitched no hit ball against Midland and Birmingham to win the state championship.

Red Wings Snatch Lead In Stanley Cup Playoff

DETROIT (AP)—"We really didn't play well but we won it. They gave it to us good at Toronto so now let's see how they like it."

That was as close as Detroit Red Wings manager Coach Sid Abel came to admitting his team had its hands full after jumping to a three-goal lead in the third game of the Stanley Cup hockey playoff finals Thursday night.

The Red Wings went ahead 2 games to 1 with a 4-3 victory over the Maple Leafs on Alex Delvecchio's dramatic last-minute goal. Toronto had tied it seconds earlier.

Floyd Smith and Bruce MacGregor put the Red Wings two goals up with the game less than four minutes old. Smith tallied again later in the period. Toronto started a comeback when Andy Bathgate scored at 4:16 of the middle session and Dave Keon and Don McKenny scored in the third period.

McKenny's marker came at 18:47 and Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk said he never saw the puck go in.

Fifty-six seconds after the tying goal, Delvecchio took a perfect pass from Gordie Howe and he jammed it past Toronto goalie Johnny Bower. Alex then had to fight his way out of a mob of players as his teammates engulfed him.

Toronto Coach Punch Imlach closed the door of the Leafs' dressing room to newsmen, but emerged later to say:

"It was a tough game to lose. We played well after that shaky start in the first period and finally got the equalizer."

"It was right after that that we made a bad mistake when we failed twice to clear the puck, and that set the Red Wings up for the big goal."

"As for the series — we will just have to win three now."

Imlach, criticized for allegedly working his players too hard, scheduled another drill at Detroit's Olympia Stadium at 11:30 a.m.

The Red Wings left for Toledo where Abel said they would rest for Saturday's game. Detroit has not held a practice session since it started playoff competition.

Speedy Joey Is Heavier

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joey Giardello, who hasn't fought since winning a decision over Dick Tiger for the middleweight championship last Dec. 7, has put a premium on strength for his 10 - round non-title fight against Juan (Rocky) Rivero here tonight.

Giardello, 33, expected to weigh in today at 164 pounds, one pound under the limit in the overweight match, Rivero, the Argentine middleweight champ, is expected to weigh about the same for the fight to be televised by ABC starting at 10 p.m. EST.

"Joey weighed 158½ against Tiger," said Giardello's trainer, Adolph Ritacco. "His best fighting weight is around 159 or 160, but he'll be stronger at 164. This Rivero is a pretty strong guy."

The 26-year-old South American has knocked out 36 opponents en route to a 41-10-1 record. Rivero was stopped in the seventh round by Florentino Fernandez in New York last Dec. 13.

Giardello, with a 101-22 mark, relies mainly on speed, a good left hook and jab.

Seven-Footer All-American

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, 16-year-old, 7-foot-plus center for New York's Power Memorial Academy, has made the Scholastic Magazines' All-America high school basketball team for the second straight year.

The 38-player team, representing 24 states, was named Thursday by the national educational publications. The team includes Willie Betts, of River Rouge, Mich.

First Game Set In New Stadium

By The Associated Press

The first game in the major leagues' newest park and a game dedicated to the late President John F. Kennedy were features of the second round of openers today.

The New York Mets, unsurprisingly winless after two games, entertained Pittsburgh at Shea Stadium, a $25-million structure dedicated Thursday. Boston was host to the Chicago White Sox in the Kennedy memorial game.

Two other teams, one in each league, played before their home fans for the first time this season. The Cubs were at Chicago against Philadelphia while the New York Yankees played at Baltimore.

Some 48,000 were expected to help the Mets baptize the 55,300-seat stadium named for William A. Shea, chairman of the Mayor's Baseball Committee. Shea helped return National League baseball to New York.

All proceeds of the game at Boston will be turned over to the J.F.K. Memorial Library Fund. The Red Sox expected about 25,000.

The late President's brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert and Sen. Ted, were among the crowd along with Gov. Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts, President Joe Cronin of the American League and Stan Musial.

At Chicago, Phillip R. Clarke, a box holder for 40 years, was given the honor of throwing out the first ball.

Baltimore fans saw the first home appearance of Hank Bau the Orioles' new manager who is an ex-Yankee.

Kansas City, Minnesota and Los Angeles won't open their home seasons until next Tuesday. Milwaukee and St. Louis start at home next Wednesday. The Colts opened at Houston Thursday night.

Lary Will Test Throwing Arm Against Angels

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Lary was scheduled to give his arm the first test of the regular season today as the Detroit Tigers opened a two-game series against one of their favorite teams, the Los Angeles Angels.

The Tigers were 12-6 against the Angels in the season's series in 1963 and have a 37-17 record for the three years the two teams have been playing.

Lary, who had a 1.29 earned run average in 28 innings during the spring exhibition campaign, is anxious to get started.

Two of his victories in a 4-9 season last year were against the Angels. He has a 5-2 lifetime average against them.

Lary's opponent was to be Dean Chance who had a 13-18 record last year, beating the Tigers once in four decisions to bring his lifetime average against Detroit to 2-6.

Each team held batting practice for about two hours in Tiger Stadium Thursday. The Angels arrived late Wednesday after losing to the Washington Senators 6-4 earlier in the day.

Manager Charlie Dressen indicated that he would not make any changes in his lineup. This means rookie outfielder Willie Horton will have to wait.

Berra Or Not, Yanks Slump

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra or no Yogi Berra, the New York Yankees face a serious attendance problem, if their home opener is any indication.

Only 12,709 paying customers watched them drop their first game of the 1964 season, a 4-3 decision in 11 innings to the Boston Red Sox Thursday. That was the smallest crowd to see a Yankee home opener in nine years.

Back in 1955, only 11,251 saw the Yankees bomb the Washington Senators 19-1 in their home inaugural. Then, as now, the home opener was postponed twice because of inclement weather.

Ralph Houk, the general manager and Berra, the new field leader, used the double postponement as an excuse for the small attendance. Yet the sun was shining brightly all morning and the temperature was ideally suited for baseball.

"We had an advance sale of 18,000 for the opener last Tuesday," Berra said. "A lot of these people couldn't go today. We would have had more than twice as many people if we could have gotten the game in Tuesday."

Horton, the sensation of the spring camp in Florida, was almost a shoo-in for the starting job in left until he suffered a cut finger and was out for a week. His timing has been off since his return, Dressen says.

In addition, Billy Bruton has been wielding a hot bat during the past two weeks and Dressen isn't about to keep him on the bench as long as he keeps hitting.

There is some chance Horton may see some action in the doubleheader with Minnesota Sunday.

Left-hander Mickey Lolich and Ken McBride are the probable starters for Saturday's game between the Angels and Tigers.

Champ Enters Cage Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Defending champion Penn State was one of three teams to accept invitations to the 13th annual Motor City Basketball Tournament this December, the University of Detroit announced today.

Houston and Valparaiso and U-D, the host school, round out the field for the tourney, which will be held Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 28 and 29.

Detroit, which has won half of the previous tournaments, bowed to Penn State 88-83 in last year's finals.

Valparaiso, 9-15 last year, will be making its second appearance in the tournament.

Houston will be playing in the tourney for the first time. The Cougars were 16-10 last season and were winners of the All-American holiday tourney in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Veteran Coach To Be Honored

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A public salute June 1 to honor Red Waterman's accomplishments in a 37-year span as athletic director and coach at East Grand Rapids High School was announced today.

Waterman reaches age 65 next Tuesday and plans to retire at the end of the school year. He was elected to the Michigan High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame in Tokyo, Japan.

A Western Michigan University graduate and former coach of major sports at Benton Harbor and Kalamazoo high schools, Waterman joined the East Grand Rapids system in 1927.

He coached all sports but track was his favorite. Six of his track teams won state championships.

Warriors Win Western Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"We are not going to stop and play possession basketball," said Coach Alex Hannum as his San Francisco Warriors trailed 77-69.

And so the rags-to-riches National Basketball Association team didn't — it swept to 14 straight points on aggressive defense and racehorse offense, smothered St. Louis 105-95 and won the NBA's Western Division championship Thursday night.

Now the Warriors must face the Eastern Division champion Boston Celtics for the over-all NBA title in a best-of-seven series that could carry the basketball season into May.

The 14-point burst came right after a 21-6 St. Louis rally that seemingly had turned the seventh and final game of the series into a Hawk's picnic.

Table Tennis Deadline Set For April 18

The deadline for entering the teenage table tennis tournament is Saturday, April 18, and registrations will be accepted until 4 p. m. of that day. Boys and girls may sign up at Club 314 this week in the afternoon or evening.

Girls will compete in the open division if they are 13 years of age or older. Competition for boys will be organized into the following classes: Juvenile division, 12 and 13 years of age; Junior division, 14 and 15; Intermediate division, 16 and 17; and Senior division, 18 years and older.

The tournament will begin Monday night at Club 314 at 6:30 and will continue through the week. Winners will receive trophies with medals going to second, third, and fourth place finishers.

Tavern Dartball Annual Banquet Stated Saturday

The annual Escanaba Tavern Dartball League banquet will be held Saturday, April 18, at Teamsters Hall with refreshments beginning at 6 p. m.

Individual and team trophy winners will be announced for the regular season and tournaments. Officers will be elected for next season.

Bill Doucette will serve as toastmaster. Current officers are Pete Hirn, president; Boots Boucher, vice president; and Dick Schmeltzer, secretary-treasurer.

Following the dinner, music for dancing will be furnished by Herb Peterson's orchestra.

Oliva Appears Heading For Great Career

By The Associated Press

Tony Oliva, who reached the United States on his brother's name, appears ready to go far in the American League on his own.

The rookie outfielder, so highly thought of that he forced defensive star Vic Power off his first base, is setting the early batting pace for Minnesota with five hits in 10 times at bat in two games.

He clouted a single, a double and a triple and knocked in two runs Thursday night as the Twins whipped Washington 6-2 for their second victory in two games.

The 22-year-old Oliva's real first name is Pedro but he has been known as Tony ever since he used his brother's passport to get into the United States from Cuba. Pedro or Tony, Oliva is a potent addition to the Twins' already powerful lineup.

With Oliva on the scene, though, the Twins were faced with a dilemma. They already had Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Jimmie Hall in the outfield. The answer, then, was to move Allison to first, relegating the popular Power to a utility role.

Besides Oliva, Bob Tillman and John Orsino starred at bat in the American League Thursday. Tillman pounded out four hits, sparking Boston to an 11-inning 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees, while Orsino slugged a two-run homer that carried Baltimore past Chicago 4-3.

In the National League, Curt

Simmons pitched St. Louis to a 2-0 triumph over San Francisco. Milwaukee nipped Houston 6-5 and Cincinnati whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2.

Oliva got the Twins off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning, doubling home Rich Rollins, who also doubled. The Twins broke the game open with three runs in the sixth on Zoilo Versalles' twisting pop fly triple with the bases loaded.

Don Lock homered in the second and Ken Hunt hit one in the ninth for the Senators' scoring.

Tillman, a catching disappointment for the Red Sox last year, socked three singles against the Yankees before he tripled in the 11th. Whitey Ford, who pitched the whole game, then uncorked a wild pitch, allowing Tillman to score the winning run.

Orsino's home run, his second of the young season, climaxed a four-run fifth inning for the Orioles. Chicago rookie second baseman Don Buford helped the rally by bobbling Luis Aparicio's grounder.

Plan Practical Nursing Program At Bay College

Faculty appointments, initiation of a practical nursing program, and renovation plans were approved by the trustees of Bay de Noc Community College at a special meeting last night.

The board authorized the appointment of Raymond E. Reilly in the biological sciences and Raymond Winter in chemistry, and President Richard Rinehart discussed the need for additional faculty members to handle the increased enrollment for next year. He reported on interviews and evaluations currently in progress for three more faculty positions.

Rinehart told the board about the current status of a licensed practical nursing curriculum for the college. Preliminary studies have been done by the Michigan Employment Security Commission and by the college and statements of the need for the program have been received from high school counselors. Donald Potenhauer and Manfred Cerasoli in particular have sent expressions of need for such a course.

Advisory Study
The college has discussed this in Lansing with representatives of the Michigan Board of Nursing and the Michigan Department of Health and has received information on the criteria for approval for a licensed practical nursing program. The next step to be taken by the college is the formation of an advisory committee to continue the study in detail. Such an advisory committee will be appointed by the college in the near future, said Rinehart.

The college received a statement from Don M. Pearce, Marquette, listing the possible types of building appraisals that would be of value to the college. Pearce said that the college will not need an independent appraisal for fire insurance needs and that the valuation of the insurable interest would be the expenditures the college has actually made on the building.

After an extended discussion of alternative floor plans and types of usage of the building, the college formulated preliminary plans for remodeling. It was decided that the central part of the building on the ground floor would be converted to a multi-purpose room with a snack area and kitchen, plus a gymnasium and faculty offices. It was further decided that the second floor of Catherine Bonifas Hall would be remodeled for additional needed classrooms and that additional library space is to be provided for next year. These were planned as part of a three year program of renovation.

Renovation Plan
This year's renovation will add approximately five classrooms, two science laboratories, two employment training areas, a gymnasium area of approximately 1,000 square feet, four new faculty offices, approximately 3,500 square feet of student union-dining room-recreation area, a book store-checkroom, and an additional 700 square feet of library area. All of these fit into the long range program.

Rinehart reported on the success of a program being conducted by the student government, whereby they invite high school students to spend a day at the college observing the normal day in college with one of the college students as their "buddy."

A schedule for the use of the tennis courts by the college, high school teams, and the general public was presented and a listing of conferences to be held at the college by public groups was approved.

Johnson Faces 512 Reporters At Conference

erates a tight budget" but an adequate one.

"You can depend on what he tells you," the President said. Johnson also said he would personally make a decision "that I think is in the national interest" on whether to adopt proposals by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, for development of a new bomber.

Other major pronouncements by President Johnson included these:

The national economy operated at a record annual rate of $698.5 billion in the January-March quarter, an increase of $8.5 billion from the final quarter of 1963.

Johnson said he was "not an overly optimistic man" but believes the dispute that threatens a nationwide rail strike can be settled through collective bargaining. "I hope and pray it will be by the end of the week," he said.

The administration wants to study the feasibility of a seal-level replacement for the Panama Canal and is sending a survey team to Colombia to explore the terrain there.

At least two secondary school students from each state will be selected next month as presidential scholars. They will visit the White House and receive from Johnson medallions symbolizing the scholastic honor.

Johnson said he has no interest in any government-regulated industry, and that Mrs. Johnson's television interests are in the hands of trustees. "I see no conflict in any way," he said.

Net Gain Small In School Aid

What appears on the face of it to be a substantial increase in state school aid will bring only a nominal net gain to the Escanaba Area Public Schools district, Supt. Walter Bright said today.

The House bill will aid the smallest and poorest districts most.

As the bill went to the Senate it called for an increase in the state school aid fund by $14 million and includes $7 million for distressed school districts and $14.5 million for special education.

The measure would also increase the state aid per pupil from $224 to $234, a $10 million item, and hike the deductible millage from 3 1/2 to 4 1/4. "This may bring to many persons the erroneous impression that the Escanaba Area school system will gain by $10 per pupil," said the superintendent.

This is not the case. The increase in the deductible millage reduces this to $5.45 per pupil. Under the old state aid bill the Escanaba Area schools received $734,478 net; under the new bill the net state aid to the school district will be $737,095 or an increase of $2,617.

Youth Is Jailed; Confesses Making Anonymous Calls

The arrest of a 17-year-old Escanaba youth has solved the problem of a series of anonymous telephone calls that have plagued residents of the city's south side, police said today.

Ronald Deloria of 906 2nd Ave. S. today pleaded guilty in municipal court to a charge of disorderly conduct after admitting the anonymous calling, and was sentenced to 10 days in jail and ordered to receive psychiatric treatment.

The arrest was made by city police last night.

Gayeff said that he has been offered cable franchises by several communities and is considering construction. He said AEG would build new office and warehouse quarters outside the Escanaba city limit, and that it specially needs garage space not available at its present location.

Ishpeming Area Jubilant Over Mining Revival

ISHPEMING (AP) — Upper Peninsula iron ore mining operations, once considered a near dead industry, are making a strong bid to be the top factor in new economic prosperity for this area of the famed Marquette Range.

Ishpeming businessmen, civic leaders and residents call stepped up mining operations a rebirth for the area's economy. Many of the jubilant residents were among some 1,000 miners idled by extensive mine layoffs in 1960.

Key to the area's economic future is the development of a system for transforming low grade ores from virtual uselessness into high-iron-content pellets through a process called beneficiation.

Major center for the revived mine operations here is the Empire Mine, an open pit operation of Cleveland Cliffs. The mine

Drake, who fractured both wrists and suffered internal injuries in the fall Thursday when debris knocked him off the roof, suffered injuries in another 40 foot fall last year, he told his physician. In all he has been injured in three falls while working as a wrecker "and I've had enough," said Drake.
